

Protect yourself from meningococcal disease

Meningococcal disease is an uncommon but serious infection caused by meningococcal bacteria. Its complications can be devastating.

Adolescents and young adults are at a higher risk of infection.

Immunization is the most effective protection.

Talk to your doctor, nurse, pharmacist, or local public health office about getting immunized against meningococcal disease.

Immunize
Immunisation Canada
immunize.ca